

ABSTRACT

A twist ring for placement in an annular groove having a generally C-shaped region with two ends. The twist ring has a first leg extending from one end and a second leg extending from the second end. The twist ring additionally has at least one finger projecting inwardly from the C-shaped region.

10084143